The women in prison film (or WiP film) is a subgenre of exploitation film that began in the early 1900s and continues to the present day.. Their stories feature imprisoned women who are subjected to sexual and physical abuse, typically by sadistic male or female prison wardens, guards and other inmates. The genre also features many films in which imprisoned women engage in lesbian sex.

The incarceration of a parent can have as much impact on a child's well-being as abuse or domestic violence. But while states spend heavily on corrections, few resources exist to support those left behind. A Shared Sentence offers commonsense proposals to address the increased poverty and stress that children of incarcerated parents experience.

My mother instilled in me a love of reading, so when I discovered several of Sabatini's titles in a bookstore, I bought Captain Blood. Many years later, I did some pirate research that took me back to this novel. As I reread Captain Blood in preparation for writing this article, I realized how much I hadn't understood the first time.
